Robert Wycliffe Cheatham married Sarah Baldwin Jones. They are the father-in-law and mother-in-law of Dr. Thomas Shelton Boggess III, who is my wife's brother. Sarah is a Georgia woman through and through, being born in Atlanta, Fulton County, Georgia and living most of her life in Griffin, Spaulding County, Georgia.

The Cheatham and Jones families are Georgia families steeped in the history and culture of that state and in the textile industry as it flourished in the best of times for it.

Most of the data cited in this report came to me from Sarah, who shared with me her Family Treemaker GEDCOM files. It is her research and gathering of family information. I am privileged to put the data together into this report, hopefully for the pleasure of family members.

18. LINDLEY JONES¹² CHEATHAM (ROBERT WYCLIFFE¹¹, JOHN HENRY¹⁰, ROBERT GUTHRIDGE⁹, ROBERT⁸, GUTHRIDGE⁷, JOHN⁶, PETER⁵, THOMAS⁴, THOMAS³, THOMAS², THOMAS¹) was born Dec 22, 1943 in Griffin, Spalding County, Georgia. She married THOMAS SHELTON BOGGESS III Aug 03, 1962 in Laffatte, Alabama, son of THOMAS BOGGESS and ALICE MCELROY. He was born Aug 28, 1941 in Griffin, Spaulding County, Georgia.

Notes for LINDLEY JONES CHEATHAM:

Lindley was born on the third birthday of Diane Sawyer, Broadcast journalist for the ABC Network on "Good Morning America."

In 1943, shoe rationing began, limiting civilians to three pairs a year! Well, bless my sole!

The New York Film Critics Awards included James Cagney as best actor for "Yankee Doodle Dandy," a dancing role for Cagney! The musical, "Oklahoma" by Richard Rogers and Oscar Hammerstein II opened on Broadway at the St. James Theatre. It was based on the 1931 play "Green Grow the Lilacs" by Lynn Riggs. Its songs, including "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning," "People Will Say We're in Love," and "Poor Jud Is Dead," soon took hold all over America.

Source for 1943 data: Gorton Carruth, "Encyclopedia of American Facts & Dates," Harper & Row, Publishers, New York, first edition 1817, eighth edition 1987, pages 532-535

Lindley described the lineage of her name in an e-mail to me on March 26, 2006: "I was named after my grandfather, Louis Lindley Jones. The story goes that male names had run out in the family he, being the 7th son. Aunt Charlotte, the black maid, said she remembered a Lindley back somewhere in the family...so I guess Aunt Charlotte named him. Of course when I was named there were no other Lindleys other than the 3rds ...(male). Now my cousin named her daughter Lindley [Lindley Hightower Knight], my sister named her daughter Lindley Anne [Lindley Anne Hines], and (my daughter) Frances named her daughter Lindley [Lindley Loraine Gallegos]. And while a child, I never heard of any girl being named Lindley, now I have heard it several times."

The male named Lindley from "somewhere in the family" is illusive, as all of the ancestral information recorded in these files do not include such a man. Perhaps it was a collateral relative whose lineage has not been recorded here.

Lindley was a bright student in school, as well as an attractive young lady, which is the attraction to which Tom, her future husband, was drawn as his family returned in Griffin, Georgia toward the end of their high school years. Tom was almost two years older than Lindley.

After their marriage, they set out to pursue college educations. First, they were at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. That was just up the highway from New Orleans where Suzanne and I lived, as we, too, married in 1962. We all were newly weds. Their daughter was born while there at LSU and we were happy to get to be with them at that time.

After Tom's graduation from LSU, they went to the University of Georgia at Athens, Georgia, where Tom enrolled in the Veterinary Medicine School. Tom did achieve his Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree there while Lindlay graduated with a Masters Degree in Education, all the while raising both of their two children that were to be born.

After their Veterinary Clinic internship in Kansas, they settled for the long haul with a clinic Tom purchased in Phoenix, Arizona. Their family was raised there as they resided on West Wagon Wheel Drive. Lindley enjoyed sports, especially tennis. She also developed interest in financial management and pursued professional work in the field.

Notes for THOMAS SHELTON BOGGESS III:

Born in Griffin, Spaulding County, Georgia, Thomas Shelton Boggess III was raised in Macon, Noxubee County, Mississippi from age six on to high school. Tommy, as he was fondly remembered, was an active young man in the Macon community.

The month Doc was born, on August 14, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill issued the Atlantic Charter, a statement of principles that renounced aggression. Roosevelt is my eighth cousin, and Churchill is his eleventh cousin, once removed.

This was the year that the phrase, "Remember Pearl Harbor" burned into the minds of Americans as that fateful day in infamy plunged us into World War II for sure.

In golf, Ben Hogan was the top money winner with $18,358. In boxing, Joe Louis defended the world heavyweight title five times. Franklin D. Roosevelt was inaugurated an unprecedented third term as President of the United States. Actress Kathern Hepburn was awarded the New York Film Critics Award for best actress for her lead role in "The Philadelphia Story."

Tom raised pigs on the farm. He had a newspaper delivery route. He threw the papers from his Cushman Motor scooter as he was seen to ride all over town. It even was said that he souped up the engine to speed much faster than the manufacturer intended! He was an accomplished athlete, playing well on the Macon High School Football Team.

The family returned to Griffin, Georgia in 1958, giving Tommy his last year of high school there. He, of course, was a football hero. And especially he was a hero to one Lindley Cheatham, the young lady destined to become his wife.

He'd spent his first year and a half in college at Louisiana State University, then worked a year out west, doing miscellaneous activities, such as clean up crew and even some forest fire fighter, etc. This included jumping by parachute into forest fires, an activity with which his parents did not concur.

Tommy and Lindley married just prior to beginning their college careers in earnest, and both did superbly well. It could be said that his freshman year was not as in earnest as all might have wished. The 1962 marriage marriage provided the basis for Tommy being an accomplished student. He graduated from Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and acquired his Doctor of Veterinary Medicine from the University of Georgia in Athens in 1970.

Tom served an internship at a veterinary clinic in Kansas City. That would have been about the same time that Steve Westmoreland, my son-in-law, lived in the area with his family as an 8 or 9 year old boy.

Tom's career was spent living in Phoenix, Arizona, operating his Veterinary clinic there with growing success. By this time, he was known by his friends as Tom or as Doc. His love for the outdoors and for hunting led him to become a licensed game guide and to have many, many exciting experiences in the outdoors.

He particularly gave much volunteer time to the organization, the Arizona Desert Bighorn Sheep Society, Inc., a non-profit tax exempt corporation. He served that organization as its President 1980-1981. In 2004, the organization gave him the President's Award for that year in recognition for his decades of service, hard work and generosity to it and to its mission to conserve and enhance wild sheep in Arizona. Tom is only the fifth individual to receive such an honored and distinguished award over all the years of that organization's work and existence. 27. FRANCES BARTON¹³ BOGGESS (LINDLEY JONES¹² CHEATHAM, ROBERT WYCLIFFE¹¹, JOHN HENRY¹⁰, ROBERT GUTHRIDGE⁹, ROBERT⁸, GUTHRIDGE⁷, JOHN⁶, PETER⁵, THOMAS⁴, THOMAS³, THOMAS², THOMAS¹) was born Mar 08, 1963 in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. She married (1) RONALD WAYNE ALDRIDGE Feb 11, 1984 in Fairview Baptist Church, Columbus, Mississippi, son of KENNETH WAYNE ALDRIDGE. He was born Jun 20, 1963. She married (2) ANDRES GALLEGOS⁶ May 31, 1992 in Sacramento, California, son of ALVARO GALLEGOS and MARY LOPEZ. He was born May 13, 1967 in Sante Fe, New Mexico, Saint Vincent's Hospital⁷.

Notes for FRANCES BARTON BOGGESS:

When Frances was a 17 year old high school honor student in Phoenix, Arizona, she capped her then seven years hunting experience by bagging a 168 1/2 point big horn sheep in the Castle Dome Mountains, a feat that was highlighted in the Phoenix Gazette newspaper of December 25, 1980, page F7. What a wonderful Christmas present for Frances, including a nice photograph of herself and the magnificent bagged trophy.

For the uninitiated, hunters have to place their names in a tightly contested lottery drawing even to get a license to hunt for one big horn sheep in a season, and it is a lifetime limit of one animal! Frances accomplishing this so early in life is truly remarkable, a trait that would continue to mark her life.

A front page article March 18, 1982 in the Macon Beacon reported her participation on the Mississippi State University ROTC Rifle Team competition at the Mardi Gras Rifle match held in New Orleans, competing with teams from thirteen states of the southeastern and middle western parts of the nation. The top scorer of the day was our Frances, who shot from the prone position and scored a perfect 100 out of a possible 100!

She began college at Mississippi State University, and completed it at Colorado State University in Fort Collins, Colorado. She had a dynamic impact there, as she was elected President of the Student Body. It was in the context of those duties that she met the President of another university there in Colorado, Mr. Andres Gallegos. They hit it off well and became married in a great outdoor ceremony on the banks of the Sacramento River in California, not far from the California State Capital. The attire was western wear. All the bridesmaids wore dance hall girls costumes.

Along the way, Frances learned a lot of the Hispanic culture and spent some time living with native families in Mexico. As the family settled in Albuquerque, New Mexico, Frances' dream of creating a children's summer camp was fulfilled. This is an opportunity for English speaking children to be emersed in a camp experience for two weeks at a time where only Spanish is spoken.

Marriage Notes for FRANCES BOGGESS and RONALD ALDRIDGE:
There was no issue from this marriage.

Notes for ANDRES GALLEGOS:

Andres came from a large Spanish family in New Mexico. Both he and his father were marathon runners, and thus shared a vital interest in running footwear.

Andres' mother died while he was fairly young, leaving the father to raise the family. Andres gained a leadership position in college years in Colorado by being elected President of the Student Body. It was his involvement in that organization that led him to meet Francis Boggess, a fellow student body president who would become his wife and mother of his children.

Andres' father was an entrepreneur who generated much in the way of success and in the way of set backs. However, his father's invention of a spring coil loaded heel for a running shoe was the basis for the formation of Z-Coil Corporation in the 1997 in New Mexico. Andres and his father were the primary executive leadership of the corporation, and they gathered a savvy group of businessmen and academics to be on their Board of Directors. By the year 2003, they first broke into the profit area, and this success has continued.

Andres now is the chief operating officer of the company, while his father is the figurehead chairman to speak nationally and internationally on behalf of their products.

Andres gave a thumbnail description of his growing up years in his e-mail to me of May 5, 2005:

"I attended catholic grade school and catholic High School (St. Michael's in Santa Fe). I graduated in 1985. I attended Adams State College in 1985 to 1989 and graduated with a BS in Business. My emphasis was Marketing and I had minor in Computer Science and Management."

Early in 2006, Andres was recognized as the Young Businessman of the Year for the State of New Mexico. He and Frances were invited to a reception at the White House in Washington, DC where there were greeted by the President of the United States, George W. Bush. This was a highlight in the career of Andres and a great honor that all the family appreciated.

What does it mean to be a third cousin, twice removed?

The “removed” term signifies the number of generations that one is removed from the initially described relationship.

You should be able to understand what it is to have a first cousin. That is the child of one of your parent’s siblings. If your first cousin, Robert, has a child named Charlie, your relationship to that Charlie is as a first cousin, once removed.

If your first cousin Robert has grandchild, then your relationship to that grandchild is as a first cousin, twice removed.

Concerning your first cousin, once removed named Charlie. If you have a child, your child’s relationship to Charlie is as a second cousin. Children of first cousins are second cousins to each other.

Likewise, the grandchildren of first cousins are third cousins to each other.

If you are a third cousin to Sally who has a grand child named William, your relationship to William is as a third cousin, twice removed.

What is it to be a Half?

What is a half brother? Or, what is a half cousin?

This is the situation when one parent is a common ancestor of two people, but they have another spouse of that common ancestor as the other parent.

For example: Your mother dies and your father remarries, producing more children. Those children from the second marriage are your half brothers or half sisters. Similarly, if your uncle dies and your aunt remarries, producing children in the second marriage, those second marriage children are your half first cousins.
